

Our mission? To create a place that not only helps girls build their future, but teach them how to contribute back to their own communities and provide a space where they feel appreciated and safe.

A design-build project by

Cornell University Sustainable Design

X

Voices of African Mothers

learn more about the team

Team

500

students

2

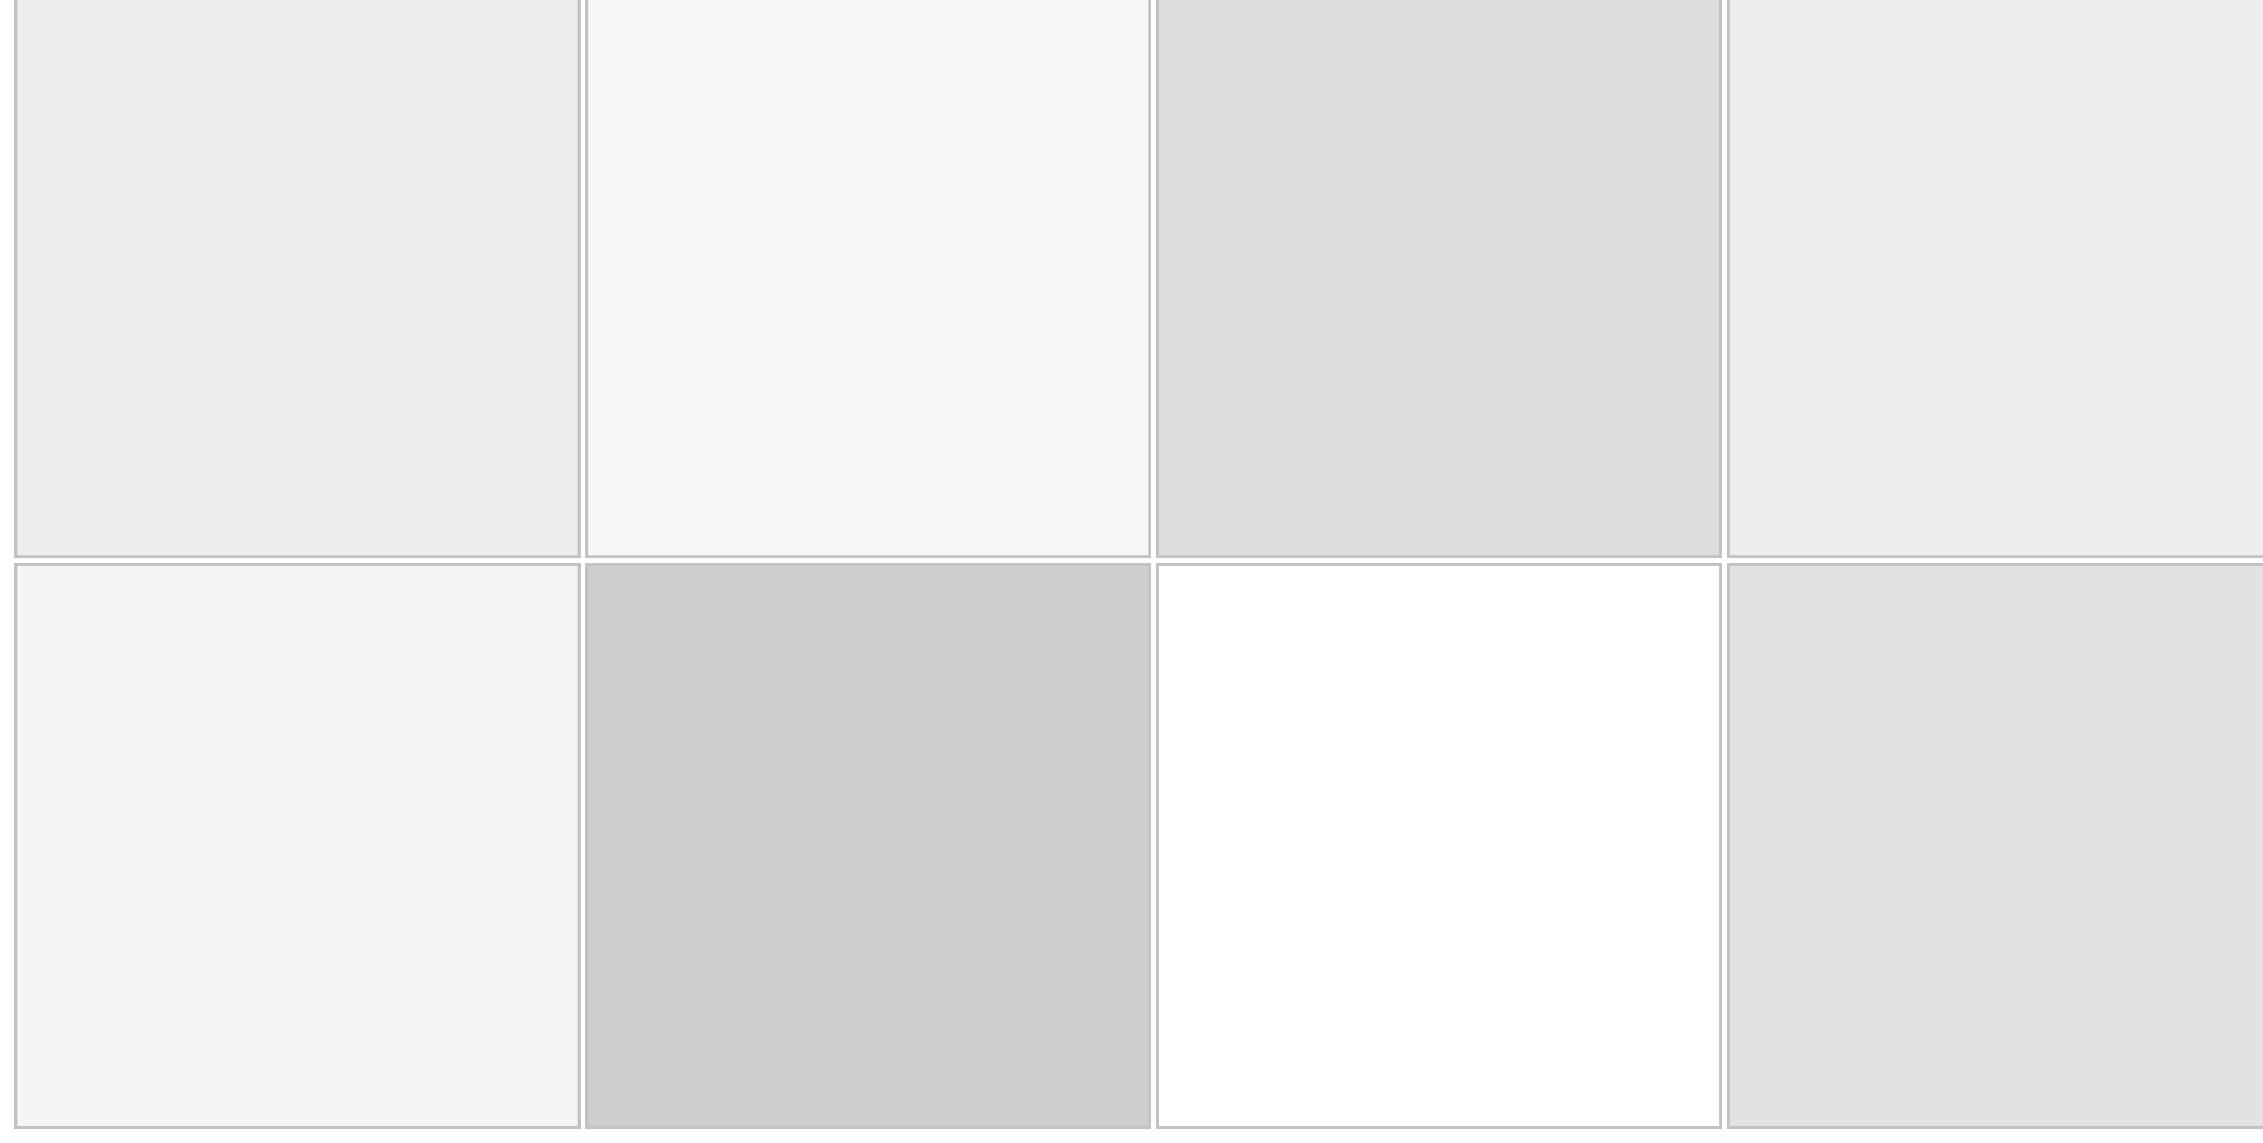

energy models

200

acres

learn more about our design process

Design

If you support our mission, please consider donating so we can begin construction in December 2016

Donate